The Sami people

By Jessica Benko
Photos by Franz Aberham

Henrik Gaup and his family are Sami. The Sami people live in Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia. They are the 'people of the reindeer'. Henrik Gaup is a traditional Sami. 'I have five children,' he says. 'I teach my children about the reindeer. They don't study with books.' Henrik and his family speak Sami, but many Sami children don't understand it. Reindeer are very important to the Sami people. In the Sami language the word for 'a group of reindeer' is eallu and the word for 'life' is eallin.

Where do people go in summer?

Summer is a great time for holidays here. The weather is hot and sunny. People go to the beach. They cook and eat outside. I go to Vancouver Island with my family. We play summer sports and we go swimming in lakes and rivers.

A U T U M N

What do people do in autumn?

In autumn, classes start. Children go to school. Students go to university. People go to work. It's cloudy and rainy. Trees change colour from green to brown. I think it's a beautiful season. I take a lot of photos in autumn.

W I N T E R

Where do people go in winter?

In winter, it's cold, rainy and snowy too. A lot of people stay at home. They watch TV, read books and cook winter food. Winter is my favourite season. I like winter sports. I go to Whistler. It's in the mountains. I go skiing and climbing. It's very cold!

S P R I N G

Why do people like spring?

For a lot of people, spring is their favourite season. The temperatures go up. It's cloudy and rainy, but it isn't cold. Flowers open, birds sing and trees are green. People go cycling and running. They meet friends and they go for walks. I play golf with my friends.

Cynthia Liutkus-Pierce

Geologist

Location: the USA

In winter, Cynthia works in her university office in North Carolina. She gives lectures and she talks to her students every week. She often has meetings with other geologists. Every summer, she travels to Africa. She usually gets up and has breakfast at six o'clock in the morning because it's very hot. She never works late. She has dinner at eight o'clock. She goes to bed early, but she sometimes wakes up because the animals are noisy.

Julia Mayo Torne

Archaeologist

Location: Panama

Julia is originally from Panama. After twenty years in Spain, she's in Panama again. Her typical day changes with the seasons. In the dry season, Julia goes to her site. It's a good site and she usually finds objects every day. She often has lunch at the site. In the evening, she always has coffee with her colleagues. They talk about their day. Then she reads before she goes to bed. In the rainy season, Julia returns to her laboratory. She studies the objects from the site, and writes articles and reports.

CATS IN CRISIS

'BIG CATS' IS THE NAME FOR TIGERS, LIONS, LEOPARDS AND JAGUARS. THE 'BIG CATS' ARE IN CRISIS.

A tiger in the forest at night in Sumatra, Indonesia

Tigers

number of wild tigers
in 1900 – 100,000
in 2010 – 3,500

Tigers live in many places in Asia – from very cold mountains in the Himalaya to very hot areas. They usually live in places without people, but people sometimes move into the tigers' areas. Tigers eat other animals. They hunt at night. In places without people, tigers also hunt in the day. They usually kill wild animals, but they sometimes kill domestic animals. Tigers are in crisis because people move into their areas and local people sometimes kill them.

Tiger conservation

tigers in Huai Kha Khaeng Wildlife Park
in 1980 – 20
in 2010 – 60

Saksit Simcharoen works at the Huai Kha Khaeng Wildlife Park in Thailand. The park is a tiger conservation area. It's a very good place for tigers. About sixty tigers live there. Saksit works with 170 people in the park. He studies the park's tigers. Saksit goes into the forest at night. He doesn't see many tigers, but the park has 180 automatic cameras. They can take photos of tigers. Saksit checks the cameras. About eight of the tigers in the park have radio collars. Every month Saksit writes reports about the tigers in the area and he has a meeting with his colleagues. Saksit loves his job because the tigers in the park are not in crisis.

Saksit Simcharoen and his team in Thailand measure and put a radio collar on a tiger.

automatic (adj) /ɔ:tə'mætɪk/ without a human operator conservation (n) /kɒnsə'veɪʃən/ protection crisis (n) /'kraɪsɪs/ a difficult or dangerous time domestic (adj) /də'mestɪk/ not wild, connected with people and homes

TRAVEL essentials

I'm a travel writer. I usually travel alone, but my family sometimes comes with me. It's difficult because they always have a lot of bags – look at this photo of our trip to Ecuador! There are eight people and there are about fifteen bags! In my sister's bags there are three jackets, four or five jumpers, seven pairs of trousers and two dresses. There are six or seven books too. She never travels without books. In my husband's bag there's a pair of boots, a pair of shoes and a pair of sandals! And his maps – he loves maps and he always takes maps on trips.

But when I travel alone, I take a very small suitcase. There's a pocket for my travel documents and inside there are two parts – one for clothes and one for my laptop. I never travel without my laptop! That's it!

Across a continent by rail and by road

Russia is a very large country. There are eight time zones between Moscow in the west and Vladivostok in the east. It's 9,000 kilometres and there are two ways to travel – by rail and by road.

BY RAIL: THE TRANS-SIBERIAN RAILWAY

Trains leave Moscow almost every day. Book your tickets in advance – don't wait until you arrive in Moscow. You can book online or use a travel agent. There are two options:

Travel non-stop in seven days. You sleep and eat on the train. You can talk to other passengers, learn some words in Russian and enjoy the views. The train travels through amazing mountains, beautiful forests and strange deserts.

Stop on the way and stay in hotels. Go sightseeing in the big cities. In Novosibirsk – the main city in Siberia – there are museums, art galleries, theatres and a famous opera house in the city centre. Or visit the Kungur Ice Cave near Perm. From the towns of Irkutsk or Ulan-Ude, you can take a bus or train to Lake Baikal, a UNESCO World Heritage site. Lake Baikal is 636 kilometres long and there are only four or five towns near it. The lake is a great place for sports activities – diving, hiking and horse riding are all popular.

BY ROAD: THE TRANS-SIBERIAN HIGHWAY

Are you adventurous? Then take the new Trans-Siberian Highway. Drive your car or – for the trip of a lifetime – hitch-hike with Russian drivers in their cars and lorries.

And when you finally arrive in Vladivostok, you can fly home or continue your trip – there's a boat to Japan every week.

adventurous (adj) /əd'ventʃərəs/ an adventurous person likes danger (do it) in advance (exp) /ɪn əd'vɑːns/ to do one thing before another thing hitch-hike (v) /hɪtʃ'haɪk/ to travel for free lifetime (n) /'laɪftaɪm/ all of your life

A lorry passes hitch-hikers in Tuva, in central Russia.

THE FIRST AMERICANS

Today there are 23 countries in North, Central and South America. But five hundred years ago, a large area of South America – now Peru – was part of the Inca Empire. In Central America, the Maya people were important. And people in Mexico were part of the Aztec empire. In North America, there were different groups in different areas, for example the Apache, Navajo and Sioux. Today the name for these different groups is Native Americans (in the USA) or First Nations (in Canada). The leaders of these people are still famous today – the last Inca leader Tupac Amaru, the Aztec Moctezuma and the Apache war hero, Geronimo, for example.

The Apache people were from the south and west of North America. Geronimo was the grandson of an important Apache leader. He was born on 16 June 1829. When Geronimo was a young man, there was a war between Mexico and the USA, and the Native Americans. At that time, his family's land was part of Mexico. Now, it's part of the United States.

Geronimo was an Apache war hero. From 1886 until 1909 he was a prisoner of war in the United States. But he was also a famous celebrity. He was with President Theodore Roosevelt on 4 March 1905 – his first day as president.

MY CHILDHOOD MEMORIES

Tyler Sarntorf

I was born on 4 July 1990 in Texas. My parents were teachers. When I was a child, my parents weren't rich. Our house was in a small town. It wasn't a big house. My family was small – me, my parents and my grandfather. My grandfather was old. He was kind and funny. But when he wasn't well, he wasn't happy.

I remember my favourite toy. It was a helicopter. It was a present from my grandfather. And I remember my first bicycle. It was red and it was fantastic. My friend Jack's bike was blue. When I was ten, my best friends were Jack and Nathan. They were in my class at school. We were bored at school. But when we were on holiday, it was great. We were typical boys!

PART 1: THE DISCOVERY

The mystery of 'Ötzi' the Iceman

THE DISCOVERY In September 1991, two German tourists were on holiday in the Austrian Alps.

They went for a walk and they found a body in the ice. The body was very old – it wasn't the body of a mountaineer. The police took it to the University of Innsbruck in Austria.

This body was a mystery. Was it a man or a woman? Who was he or she? The person had an unusual knife and a bag with arrows. Where was he or she from? How old was the body? There were many questions. But this wasn't a police investigation. It was a scientific investigation.

Listening

- 5 2.49 Read these sentences. Then listen to part 2 of the Iceman's story: the investigation. Underline any information that is different.
- The police started their investigation.
 - Scientists called the body 'Ötzi'.

Did	I/you/he/she/it we/you/they	walk?	Yes, I/you/he/she/it/we/you/they did. No, I/you/he/she/it/we/you/they didn't.

For further information and practice, see page 168.

After ten years of international adventures, last year Alastair Humphreys stayed in the UK. He had a different kind of adventure: a 'local adventure'. He didn't go on a typical, dangerous trip. We asked him about his local adventure.

Tell us about your last adventure.
Did you go to a dangerous place?

No, I didn't. I didn't leave the UK. I stayed in London. I went around London on the M25 motorway. But I didn't drive.

Did you walk?

Yes, I did. I left my house in London in January. It was cold and it was snowy. It wasn't easy. I saw new places. In fact, I saw some beautiful places. And I met interesting people. It was a local adventure.

And then what did you do?

I had one or two more local adventures and I made videos about them. People around the world watched the videos. But they didn't just watch them – they liked my ideas and they went on local adventures too.

The rocks in the tsingy are very sharp.

DISCOVERING Madagascar

By Neil Shea Photos by Stephen Alvarez

I arrived in Madagascar in March, at the end of the rainy season. I was with a biologist and a photographer. We wanted to find some new species. We travelled to the park with our guide and after five days, we finally arrived there.

We walked through the tsingy. The rocks cut our clothes and our shoes too. It was very dangerous, but we saw hundreds of animals and plants. We saw beautiful birds and unusual white lemurs with red eyes. They didn't have any problems on the tsingy rocks!

Then, one afternoon, I fell on a rock. I cut my leg. The cut was very deep. It took two days to reach the hospital. The nurse cleaned my leg. She looked at me. 'I have a question. Why did you go to the tsingy?' she asked. Then she said, 'It's very dangerous. I think you are a little crazy.' She didn't understand us. The tsingy is a natural paradise.

Madagascar is a fantastic place. About 90 per cent of the animals and plants there live only in Madagascar. It's a very interesting place for scientists. There are some very unusual animals and plants in Madagascar's Tsingy de Bemaraha national park, but it's a dangerous place. The rocks – the 'tsingy' – in the park are very sharp. Neil Shea reports.

Speaking

9 Work in groups. Plan a special weekend for a person you all know. Then tell the class.

Next weekend is our special weekend for Tracey. On Saturday morning, we're all going shopping. Then Tracey is having a beauty makeover.

A different kind of weekend

Joel Connor works in an office in Kansas. His job is a typical nine-to-five, Monday-to-Friday job. So at the weekend, he does something different. He does voluntary work. He helps different organisations and people for free. Every weekend there's a new project. This weekend, Joel is helping to build a house. You can see him in the photo. He's moving a large blue panel. It's part of a wall. Joel isn't a professional builder, but that's the interesting thing about this project. The other people are 'weekend builders' too.

These 'weekend builders' are from the small town of Greensburg in Kansas. A year ago, a tornado hit their town. After the tornado, the community started a project to build new homes. The project is for 30 new homes. They have help from a building company and a group of volunteers.

Joel says, 'I heard about the tornado and the new project. I knew some people in Greensburg. I wanted to help.' Joel's friends are here this weekend too. They're on the roof. They're working with Jill and Scott Eller. Jill and Scott are building their 'dream house'. Jill (right) is standing near her new house. She's holding a part of the new wall. They're making the house 'tornado-resistant' – that's why it has an unusual shape.

The Ellers' house is almost ready, so next weekend, Joel is moving to a different project. Why does he do voluntary work? 'I have time, I can help people, I make friends and it's fun! So why not?' he says.

dream house /n/ /'dri:m ha:us/a house you'd like a lot tornado /n/ /tɔ:'neɪdəʊ/ a very windy storm tornado-resistant /n/ /tɔ:'neɪdəʊ-ri'zɪstənt/ a tornado can't hurt this

S: OK, that's the flight. Let's look for a hotel now. Is it for two nights or three?
L: Three nights – Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Are there any hotels near the airport?
S: Yes, there are. But they're expensive. Just a minute ... no, there aren't any cheap hotels near the airport. They're all expensive. This one is four hundred dollars a night!
L: Wow! Well, what about a youth hostel? Is there a youth hostel near the airport?
S: OK, let's see. I don't think so ... no, there isn't. I don't like youth hostels. They aren't very comfortable.
L: OK. Let's look in the city centre. Are there any cheap hotels there?
S: Yes, of course there are.
L: Well, that's good. And is there a bus to the city centre?
S: A bus from the airport? Yes, there is. There's a bus every twenty minutes from the airport to the centre. There isn't a train, but that's OK.
L: And there are taxis too.
S: I think the bus is fine. OK, so let's look at these hotels.

S: It's fantastic!
L: I know. And it isn't really expensive ...
S: Are you sure?
L: Yes. Oh, I like these lamps!
S: Yes, they're really unusual!
L: This sofa is very comfortable. And what's this? Oh, it's a fridge.
S: Are there any drinks in it? I'm really thirsty.
L: Yes, there are some bottles of water. Here.
S: Thanks.
S: Where's the TV?
L: I don't know. There isn't one.
S: What? There isn't a TV!

2.31

R: Good afternoon, sir. Can I help you?
G: Hello. Yes, I'd like an alarm call at 7.30, please.
R: In the morning? Certainly, sir. What's your room number?
G: 327.
R: OK, 327 ... an alarm call for 7.30.
G: And I'd like to have a meal in my room this evening.
R: Of course. There's a menu in your room. It's on the desk.
G: Oh, yes!
R: Call 101 for room service.
G: Fine. I'd like to use the Internet too.

R: No problem. We have a Wi-Fi in all the rooms.

G: Great. Oh, is there a bank near the hotel?

R: Yes, there's one on the street. It's next to the cinema.

G: OK, thanks very much.

I: Aneta, who was your hero when you were young?
A: When I was about ten years old, my hero was Michael Johnson. He was a great sportsman.
I: Was he the Olympic champion?
A: Yes, he was. And he was the world champion eight times.
I: Were you good at sports at school?
A: Well ... yes, I was. I was in the basketball team at school.

I: Joe, who was your hero when you were young?

J: When I was young, my hero was David Attenborough. He was on television. His programmes about animals and nature were fantastic.

I: Was it his first job?

J: No, it wasn't. His first job was with books, but he wasn't happy in that job.

I: Which is your favourite David Attenborough programme?

J: I think it's Life on Earth. But all his programmes were really interesting.

I: That was in 1979 ... were you born then?

J: No, I wasn't! But I have the DVD.

I: Clare, who was your hero when you were young?

C: My heroes weren't famous. They were my teachers at college. I wasn't happy at school, but college was great. The teachers were really nice and friendly. Mrs Harvey was my art teacher. She was very funny. And she was married to my English teacher, Mr Harvey.

I: Were they good teachers?

C: Yes, they were. They were fantastic.

2.45

1 T: Hello!
S: Hi, I'm sorry I'm late. The bus was late.
T: That's OK. Take a seat.
2 C: Oh, hi Ravi.
R: Hi Clare.
C: Where was the meeting at 2.30. Where were you?
R: Oh, I'm sorry. I was very busy.
C: It's OK. It wasn't an important meeting.
3 A: Mmm, this coffee is good!
B: Yes, it is.
A: So, what about yesterday? We were at your house at ten o'clock. Where were you?
B: I'm very sorry. We weren't at home. We were at my sister's house!
A: It's OK. Don't worry.

2.48

Scientists discover hundreds of new plants and animals every year. A large number of these discoveries are in Indonesia. In fact, scientists in Papua New Guinea usually find about two new plants or animals every week. It's a fantastic place. There aren't many people in the area and it isn't easy to get there. Scientists sometimes arrive and leave by helicopter!

The scientists at the University of Innsbruck started their investigation. They took photos and they studied the body. They discovered the body was a man. They called him 'Ötzi' because the body was in the Ötztal mountains in the Alps. The scientists finished their report. It was very interesting.

Ötzi was a small man. He was about 45 years old when he died. He was from the north of Italy and he lived about 5,000 years ago. The scientists think he walked to the mountains. The scientists think he died in spring. They also think an arrow killed him.

2.51

- I: Hi, Jamie.
 J: Hello.
 I: Did you watch Alastair's videos?
 J: Well, I didn't see the first or second video, but I saw a video about swimming in the River Thames.
 I: Did you like it?
 J: Yes, I did. I liked it a lot. The next weekend, I didn't stay at home. I drove to a lake near my house and went swimming.
 I: Was that an adventure?
 J: Yes, because usually I go to the swimming pool. It was very different in the lake.
 I: Did you make a video too?
 J: Yes, my friend went with me. He filmed me on his camera phone and we sent the video to Alastair on Twitter.

2.53

- 1 A: Did you and Sonia have a good time in Sydney last week?
 B: Yes, thanks, we did. But we didn't go swimming.
 A: Oh? Why not?
 B: There was a shark in the sea!
 2 C: Did you and Jack have a good holiday last year?
 D: No, we didn't.
 C: Oh? Why not?
 D: Well, we stayed at home. We didn't have any money!
 3 E: Did you and Alice have a nice meal last night?
 F: Yes, we did. It was delicious. And we didn't pay!
 E: Oh? Why not?
 F: My boss paid!

Unit 12

2.56

The young women in this photo work in a factory from Monday to Saturday. But today is Sunday - it's the weekend. On Sunday, they usually meet and go out for the day. Most shops, museums and cinemas are open, so there are a lot of things to do. In different countries, the weekend is on different days. In some countries - for example, Oman - the weekend is Thursday and Friday. In Algeria, Egypt and Qatar, the weekend is Friday and Saturday. These Chinese factory workers have one day off, but office workers have Saturday off too. The Saturday and Sunday weekend is quite new in China - it started in 1995.

- I: Ayu, tell us about these photos.
 A: Well, this is my mother. She's in the kitchen. She's cooking.
 I: What's she making?
 A: She's making lunch. We have a big family lunch every Saturday.
 I: And who's this?
 A: That's my husband, Amir, in the bathroom. He's bathing our daughter.
 I: How old is your daughter?
 A: She's eighteen months old. And this is my father with his friend. They're talking and drinking coffee.
 I: What are they sitting on?
 A: They're sitting on the mats we use in Indonesia. And then this photo is Amir's brother with his son.
 I: What are they doing? Are they reading?
 A: No, they aren't. They're playing a game on Amir's computer. This is my sister. She's in the bedroom. She's ironing. I usually help her.
 I: And what about this last one?
 A: This is my brother - he's wearing an orange T-shirt - and his friend. They're washing their motorbikes. They do that every Saturday.
 I: Which is your favourite photo?
 A: Oh, I think it's the one of my husband and my daughter because they are both smiling and happy.

2.60

- A: Hi Lauren, it's Alex.
 L: Oh, hello. Where are you?
 A: I'm on the bus. I'm going home from work. So, what are you doing this weekend?
 L: Well, I'm going shopping tomorrow.
 A: Of course. You always go shopping on Saturdays.
 L: No, I don't! Anyway, Sports Gear is having a sale tomorrow.
 A: Really?
 L: Yes, they're selling all the winter sports stuff at half price.
 A: Wow! And what about on Sunday?
 L: I don't know. What are you doing?
 A: Well, do you remember Helen Skelton?
 L: She went down the Amazon River last

- L: Oh yes.
 A: She's giving a talk about her trip on Sunday evening. I'm going with my brother. Would you like to come?
 L: Where is it?
 A: At the Natural Science Museum. Tickets are free.
 L: OK! Why not?

2.62

- A: What are you doing this weekend?
 O: I'm not sure. My sister is coming tomorrow.
 A: Is she staying the weekend?
 O: Yes, she is. We're going to a party on Saturday.
 A: Does she like music? The West Country Folk Band is playing at the City Hall on Sunday.
 O: OK. Great!

2.63

- a C: Four tickets for the museum, please.
 S: Four adults?
 C: Oh sorry, no. Two adults and two children.
 S: OK. That's six pounds, please. Would you like a brochure for the Home Life exhibition?
 C: Yes, please.
 S: Would you like it in English? We have brochures in French, German and Japanese too.
 C: Oh, French, please.
 S: Here you are.
 C: Thanks.
 b C: Three return tickets to Lindisfarne, please.
 S: Are you coming back today?
 C: Yes, we are. Is there a bus after six o'clock?
 S: Yes, there is. There's a bus every hour. The last one is at nine o'clock.
 C: OK.
 S: Are you going to the castle and gardens? Would you like to buy the tickets now?
 C: Oh, yes. Great.
 S: It's a special weekend ticket. That's twenty-one pounds, please.
 C: Here you are.
 S: Thank you.
 c C: Good morning.
 C: Hi. It's busy today! Are there any free tennis courts?
 S: Yes, there are. The people on court 4 are finishing now.
 C: OK, great. A ticket for two people, please.
 S: Would you like it for one hour or two hours?
 C: Erm, just a minute... Ellen, would you like to play for one hour or two?
 E: One is fine.
 C: OK. So just one hour, please.
 S: That's ten pounds.
 C: Thanks.
